Subject: Races, breeds, statistics and probability!

"There's all this talk about having to be 'politically correct'... what is it about politicians that makes them so stupid and ignorant... far worse than any peasant I've ever known?"

In some languages there's no difference between "races" and "breeds" i.e. a sub-group within the same species... e.g. one would say "what race of dog is that?"... yet we seem to make a difference between human "breeds" and dog "breeds"... the former are all coequal as if they were all members of some sort of holy trinity, whereas the latter are all different and it is generally accepted that they have different traits!

It's the same 'bloody' thing that all those PC fuckwits don't want to admit: black people are predisposed to aggression and violence just like pit-bulls are... also some breeds of dogs are predisposed to having a high degree of intelligence e.g. German shepherds, border collies and poodles. Others are supposedly very stupid... e.g. the whippet, the greyhound and the Afghan... the same applies to human "breeds"!

Some dogs are renowned for particular traits e.g. tracking scents and smells - such as the blood-hound! Likewise Aborigines make good trackers!

I really don't know why I bothered to do a university course in probability and statistics when it's supposedly not PC correct to use such knowledge! Apparently one's not supposed to acknowledge that most crimes are committed by 'blacks' and 'aborigines', so as to be able to take sensible precautions!

And ridiculously 'middle-eastern' looking people complain of being profiled or singled out at air-ports!! LOL... what's the point of statistics and probability if one is not willing to learn any lessons! The same goes for blacks complaining of being 'profiled' or stereotyped in shops etc.

One thing that really annoys me, is when the media always mentions the ethnicity of a white man that commits a crime, but always refrains when it's a black or aborigine,,, and then they ridiculously ask for information from the public when they give them nothing to go on! LOL!

Yes governments should be able to look at our migrant forces and predict which ethnicities are productive and which tend to gravitate to the unemployment benefits... e.g. it's pointless to argue that just because we brought in Italians, Greeks and Vietnamese, we should also bring in middle-easterners and blacks... the 2 groups are completely different.

I wish all these fuckwits would wake-up, and stop listening to moronic, leftist, gays and feminists!"
